Description

Beijing Caofeidian Vocational Education City Investment Co., Ltd. is a large-scale enterprise which cooperates with government, runs oriented to market and operates as a company, established with joint investment by China Pocy Group Co., Ltd. and Tangshan Caofeidian Development Investment Group Co., Ltd. under the context of the great national strategy of "Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei collaborative development". It actively pursues progress and gets ready for development with its strong resource integration ability, follows the city development mode of "developing the city with industries, promoting industries with the city, combining industries with the city" and the city development concept of "high starting point design; high level planning; high quality construction; high standard operation", focuses on investment, planning, business invitation, construction and operation of industrial new cities and becomes a main force to serve regional economy, promote city development and facilitate industrial upgrade.

The company funds, constructs and operates Beijing Caofeidian International Vocational Education City in Caofeidian District of Tangshan, which will be developed into a business headquarter park and tourist city. The vocational education city project was launched in the first year of the 13th Five-Year Plan under the support of Hebei Provincial Party Committee, People's Government of Hebei Province, Party Committee of Tangshan, People's Government of Tangshan, Party Committee of Caofeidian District and People's Government of Caofeidian District. It was devised as an exemplar for Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei coordinated development, innovator of China's modern vocational education and catalyst for urban upgrading of Caofeidian. By introducing excellent education resources at home and abroad, the project will be a leader, exemplar and innovator in industry-education alliance, education-city interaction, school-enterprise cooperation, work-learn combination and knowledge-practice integration. In July 2017, Beijing Caofeidian International Vocational Education City was given the honor of World Vocational Education and Training Base to the City by UNESCO.

Pivoting around the corporate mission and social responsibility, the company will adopt modern operation system, practice advanced management concept and use rich industrial experience to support the diverse development of Beijing Caofeidian International Vocational Education City. Efficiency-focused and human-centered, the company strives to create a promising future relying on the platform provided by the Vocational Education City.
